WELCOME TO TREDINGTON

This information booklet has been produced by Tredington and Blackwell WI and we hope you find it informative and that it will help you to settle in the area more quickly. It provides details of the activities that take place in Tredington, with names of those to contact should you wish to know more or join in. It also provides some practical information in relation to other services and facilities in the area which you may need. Further information of what is available in the Shipston on Stour area can be found within the Shipston Directory on the following website: www.shipstontowncouncil.org/files/stc/directory-assets/Shipston-Directory.pdf

You will find there is a good community spirit in the village of Tredington, making it a very pleasant place to live. The Lion has recently reopened having completed a major refurbishment - we have missed it over the last couple of years. The WI Hall in Armscote Road, Tredington is owned and run by the WI and proves to be a very useful venue for a wide range of activities and is available for hire. There are also many events which take place in Tredington church, as the only building big enough to cater for large numbers. This is a beautiful building which welcomes everyone – not only to ecclesiastical services but many other events such as concerts, Christmas fairs and village suppers in the summer.

We do hope that you will join in and make new friends and strengthen the community spirit that is so valuable and enjoyable for everyone.

Tredington and Blackwell WI

ABOUT TREDINGTON

The earliest reference to Tredington, or Tredincgtun as it was called, was in AD757. With its 210ft high spire – the tallest in Warwickshire – the Grade 1 listed parish church of St Gregory is the major landmark in the village – it can be seen from almost every approach. The first stone church, founded by the Bishop of Worcester, was built in 961. Whilst the church has been altered over the centuries, you can still see traces of the original Saxon church above the arches in the nave and there is a Norman doorway on the south side of the church. The heavy oak door to the church still bears the marks of musket balls from the Civil War. The church has a tower of six bells, some nearly 400 years old, which one acknowledged expert claims to be one of the finest sets in the country.

The building that you see today has changed little externally since significant additions of the 14th and 15th centuries. The tower, constructed in the early 14th century, originally stood apart from the church. The interior of the church underwent major renovation at the end of the nineteenth century. The font, rood screen and most of the benches date back to the fifteenth century, whilst the carved pulpit is seventeenth century.

The original village was located on the east side of the main road, and that area, with a few parts of the western side, are protected today by conservation area status. At one time, there were two working corn mills along with a starch factory which gave employment to the village. In addition, there was a butcher's shop, bakery, brew house, wheelwrights and blacksmith. There were a number of orchards around the village too. Some of the house names in the village bear witness to this commercial history.

NEWBOLD AND TREDINGTON PRIMARY SCHOOL

This is a Church of England school that is part of the Coventry and Warwickshire Diocese, and the very nature of the school is built around Christian values and beliefs, which are clearly reflected in its aims and values – Democracy, Rule of Law, Individual Liberty, Mutual Respect and Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs. It welcomes children of different faiths and it has been graded as Good by Ofsted.

The school is based on two different sites – one at Tredington and one at Newbold. These were amalgamated in 1985. Since September 2014, the Newbold site contains a Nursery Department, Reception class and Year 1 children, while all other ages are based at Tredington. This larger site was opened in 1962. Mobile classrooms have been replaced by permanent buildings and situated as it is in an attractive rural environment and with its own eco garden and good playing fields it is an ideal centre.

The school may be small, but it joins with other small schools in the area for activities such as music drama and sport. The advantage of its size is that the children are known as individuals and we can provide an education to match particular needs. The school is well supported by Governors, parents and friends who provide financial support and who regularly participate in school activities.

In this way the children are initiated into the life of the community and learn to contribute to that life. As a Primary school, the staff feel it is their task to lay a strong foundation on which others can build as they mature.
